

Silicone Wine Barrel Bungs & Stoppers

Click image to enlarge

A wine barrel bung, also called a stopper, is a plug used to close an opening in the barrel when making wine. This truncated conical closure is partially inserted into the container to form a seal that prevents the contents from spilling out and keeps outside contaminants from entering.

Ace Seal’s wine barrel bungs are made of the highest quality food-grade materials. We use only 100% FDA grade silicone in our bung manufacturing processes, and all our rubber wine barrel stoppers are engineered for premium sealing capabilities, durability, and longevity.

Wine Barrel Bung Options

Ace Seal offers FDA approved food-grade silicone wine barrel bungs in multiple styles to meet your sealing needs. All bungs are available in standard size (55mm top x 45mm base x 43mm height) and “natural” color,” as well as in custom sizes and colors for your specialized applications—contact us to discuss your custom requirements. Our rubber wine barrel bung options include:

Solid Wine Barrel Bung with Top Grip Lip

Our standard U.S./French solid barrel stopper features a “top grip lip” for easier removal and an even more reliable seal. Manufactured from FDA-approved food-grade silicone.

Hollow Wine Barrel Bung with Top Grip Lip

A hollow wine barrel bung provides greater flexibility for easy installation in challenging applications. “Top grip lip” allows for easier removal. FDA-approved food-grade silicone.

Standard Bung with 3/8” Thru-Hole

These standard-size bungs are molded with a 3/8” through-hole that provides an “airlock” function and allows the insertion of tubes or other implements. Manufactured from FDA-approved food-grade silicone.

Solid Wine Barrel Bung

Ace Seal’s “traditional” silicone wine barrel bungs are precision molded to fit all U.S. and French barrels. Manufactured from FDA-approved food-grade material.

Hollow Wine Barrel Bung

Our hollow wine barrel bungs are lighter, more flexible, and easier to install. Like all our wine barrel stoppers, they’re manufactured from FDA-approved food-grade silicone.
